Judith,

I am not saying you should do this, but if you have time (and I know you are going to the Bronx River event), please come and join the Harlem River Working Group at this event on Saturday. Let me know if you think it is a possibility and Dart will be there to greet and introduce you. I can not make it.

Whatever you decide, thank you for coming to the Bronx!

The Capitol Pressroom rundown for Thursday December 2, 2010

While it might sound like a 1970's funk band, the Champlain Hudson Power Express is a high voltage transmission line. Or will be if the company proposing it can traverse a field of regulatory hurdles. Transmission Developers Inc, or TDI, is a private company proposing to lay a massive transmission line from the Canadian border to New York City. You might be thinking, "Huh. Didn't they try this before?" No, not like this. This project is different from, say NYRI, because most of THIS line will be ... wait for it.... under water. We will meet Bill Helmer, the Senior Vice President, General Counsel, and Secretary for TDI (studio) to discuss where in the regulatory process this plan is, the kind of energy TDI wants its line to carry, and how the environmental community is reacting to the proposal.

The EPA is 40 years old this year. EPA Region 2 Administrator Judith Enck (phone) joins us to discuss the agencies priorities during this era of cost-cutting at the state-level. Plus, we will ask her to comment on the radiation leak at the Cold-War era power lab near Albany.

And Chief Judge Jonathan Lippman released his report on civil legal services on Wednesday. What do members of the Bar think? NYSBA President Stephen Younger (phone) will comment on both the initiative and the new commission on judicial compensation the legislature passed this week.

We are in the midst of the binghamton hearings. A few new items have emerged. A number of people said that frack fluid is being sprayed on roadways to contain dust. This was done in the 70's with ge's pcbs in upstate ny. Can we determine if this is happening and if so can we can direct the states to prohibit this?

They have also met with the ny AG's office with a request that the AG publicly call on epa to delay the essential opt in opt out decision. They also met with the 4 major hudson river env groups. The groups and AG'S office do not support delay on opt in opt out decision which is due in december.

Aaron,

Jeff Immelt would like to meet with Administrator Jackson to discuss how GE can work with the EPA to advance climate change legislation and make progress on the Hudson River dredging project in 2011. Jeff will be in DC on September 23. Would the Administrator be available to meet with Jeff at 11:30 AM?

Thanks in advance.

I don't know if you read the letter, but Clearwater is asking you to send a letter to CEQ and the Assistant Secretary of FWS supporting their recommendations on the America's Great Outdoors Initiative. While I understand why an endorsement from you provides additional weight to Clearwater's recommendations, AGOs was designed as a process for the public (individuals and organizations) to communicate their recommendations to the federal government. It does not seem appropriate for EPA, especially since we are a participating agency, to be weighing in at this point with other federal agencies.

In addition, Clearwater only provided the summary page of their recommendations, which does not provide any details on what you would be supporting. The three topics included are the Supporting No Child Left Inside, Educating: The Next Generation of Environmental Leaders, and Activating: Urban Leaders and Green Cities. The first is a legislative issue and we would have to find out if EPA has taken a stand on this legislation.

Also, you would really have to get a read from Mitch Cohen about supporting the efforts of a particular organization. I strongly recommend you decline. You could explain that it would not be appropriate given that we are one of the three agency's that solicited input from the public, all of which we will considered by the White House. Glad to discuss further.

Please Support Our Hudson River Valley Youth for the AGO! ... sorry about the tight deadline!

Dear Judith,

Here's the letter we need to move our AGO Hudson Valley team forward... it will get the ball rolling !

On behalf of Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, I would greatly appreciate if you would review, customize on your letterhead and sign the attached letter in support of the next generation-- our kids. Should you choose to support this worthy cause, please sign, scan or fax back to me by this Friday, September 24th.

In April of this year, President Obama enacted the America's Great Outdoors Initiative and subsequent listening sessions. Federal officials visited our valley in August and listened to what our kids had to say about the outdoors-- how they get outside and what they need to get better access to our parks, rivers and open spaces.

The results from that youth listening session were astounding. They came out in force-- over 300 hundred kids from as far south as New York City and from as far north as Albany spoke out with passion and determination about what they need from our federal officials. It was these same officials that stated that in all of the listening sessions from across the country, the Hudson Valley youth were the most ardent supporters of our valley and of the programming they know they need.

Clearwater is submitting these youth recommendations via video and written a policy paper (video link and paper summary attached), entitled "The Next Generation of Environmental Leaders: Local Solutions for National Challenges." We plan on doing so next week.

Please consider supporting Clearwater and these youth in this endeavor. The young environmental pulse of the valley is strong and we must keep it pumping!

Sincerely,

Jeff Rumpf

Subject: Secretary of the Interior Report

Hi Lisa:

As mentioned, at the Secretary of the Interior's Summit, held on Ellis Island on July 26th, the Secretary asked the National Park Service to prepare a "next steps" report for him by October 1st.

I have been asked by the National Park Service to help prepare that report, and am under contract through a CESU agreement with Rutgers University.

Specifically, we are asking the agency partners two specific questions:

1. The Secretary of the Interior, Ken Salazar, would like to help make the restoration of the Hudson-Raritan Estuary a reality, what recommendations do you have for the first steps he could take to make that happen?

2. To facilitate coordination of effort, efficient use of funds, and a comprehensive approach to the restoration of the HRE with the many stakeholders, do you have any suggestions on what type of governance structure would be best.

Any other comments?

As the timeframe for this report is extremely short a prompt reply would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Barry Sullivan
